WELCOME TO LECCE AND TO THE UNIVERSITY OF LECCE

Lecce, with a population of about 100.000 inhabitants, is the principal city of the Salentine Peninsula in South-Eastern Italy. With its magnificent geographical position this "land between two seas": The Adriatic and The Ionian, offers a diversity of natural sceneries.

Long white sandy beaches with crystal blue waters and rocky coasts sitting on a sapphire sea. The countryside is rich with red earth and contrasting long rows of green and silver vineyards and olive trees.

Lecce, ancient Messapian centre, became the ancient Roman town of Lupiae, which was probably founded in the III century B.C.

The name seems to derive from the Latin "Lupiae", perhaps after the Roman she-wolf, lying under a holm oak depicted in the city's coat of arms.

Lupiae must have had a notable development in Imperial Roman times as it was granted the status of colony, and so could boast the presence of an amphitheatre and a theatre, both visible today, and of the famous Porto Adriano (today San Cataldo beach resort), the most important Roman port after Brindisi.

After the Byzantine period, when Lecce took second place to Otranto (which developed as the principal port for the East), the city became a key political and commercial centre for the Normans whose traces can be seen in the Church of SS. Nicolò e Cataldo, funded on the orders of Tancred, Count of Lecce, in 1180. The Norman period was followed by the Svebian, the Angevin and the Aragonese reigns. In the XVI century, Emperor Charles V ordered the reconstruction of the Castle and the massive city walls as a defence against the Turks, who had briefly taken Otranto in 1480.

One of the most important town in the Kingdom of Naples, Lecce was enriched with precious examples of baroque architecture from the XVI to the XVIII century. The Baroque style may be seen in the magnificent Church of the Holy Cross (S. Croce – 1549-1646), whose facade is surmounted by an extremely sophisticated rose-window, reproduced in the seal of the University of Lecce, in the Celestine Monastery, now home of the administrative offices of the Province and the Prefecture, in Piazza del Duomo, a spacious square which hosts the Cathedral with its beautiful bell-tower.

Adjacent to the Church of Saints Nicolò and Cataldo is the Monastery of the Olivetani. These buildings, have been recently restored by the University of Lecce in collaboration with the Municipal administration. Today the monastery houses part of the Department of Cultural Heritage and the Department of Historical Studies from the Middle Ages to Modern Times, sections of the Cultural Heritage Faculty of Lecce University.

MANY REASONS FOR VISITING LECCE

Lecce is situated in the “Salento”, the land between the Adriatic and Ionic sea. You have kilometres of coastal landscape, deep blue sea-fringed by bays, oleanders, olive trees, dunes and endless white beaches. Along the coast countless sea caves you can't miss.

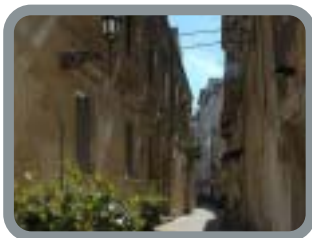

Lecce is known as “the Florence of the South” thanks to its baroque style.

You can admire different churches and monuments built with the white and easy to work “Leccese stone”.

Typical handicrafts are still to be found, ranging from pottery to papier-mâché, from articles in wrought-iron to leccese stone. Oil and wine, traditional products of the area, are appreciated all over the world. You can taste a succulent gastronomy, rich in traditional dishes. The centre of the town is bustling with meeting-places and clubs, where young people enjoy the night life...Inhabitants are extremely welcoming and friendly.

Lecce has been recognised as the Southern city in Italy with the highest participation in cultural, musical and sport events. Lyrical, classical, jazz and alternative music concerts take place all year round. Lecce hosts also a wide variety of theatre performances.

Local theatre companies have their workshops here and organise performing art courses. Folk performance, harvest festivals, patron saints fairs and fireworks take place all year round in each of the 97 villages that surround Lecce.

ORIENTATION

You are likely to find the Italian system quite different from the one in your country and therefore you may have some initial difficulties. The International Mobility Office will take care of you and of your study plan upon arrival and will address you to your local coordinator for a more specific help. Please do not hesitate to solicit information, check all bulletin boards, ask professors and other students. Student/teacher relations may also appear more formal than what you are used to. If you arrive at the beginning of the academic year, you are also likely to find the system slow to get underway. Contents of specific courses, professors' office hours, etc., might also be initially hard to get.

Do not panic!

ATTENDANCE AT CLASSES

Attendance at the courses is not compulsory but is strongly encouraged. All the courses at the University of Lecce are held in Italian (apart from some language and foreign literature courses). Each course has a different starting and ending date depending on the faculty/degree course schedule or on the availability of classrooms and lecturers. It is up to you to check the course schedules to be sure that they start and end (examinations included) before the end of your stay in Lecce.

Before beginning your studies, it is also advisable to contact the professors in charge of the courses you want to attend in order to be informed about attendance and examination requirements.

EXAMINATIONS

The two regular examination periods are in February and June-July. A special session takes places in September.

Final tests are generally in the form of an oral examination: the assimilation and critical understanding of lectures, assigned bibliography and other related activities (field work, written or oral report etc) are assessed. Written examinations are common in scientific faculties.

Grades are given on a scale from 18 to 30, 30 is the highest grade, it is sometimes given with honours ("lode") when performance is considered exceptional. Eighteen is the lowest passing grade.

ITALIAN FOR FOREIGNERS

All the courses are taught in Italian, it is therefore of the utmost importance that Erasmus students planning to study with us should be encouraged to study Italian before their arrival and/or during their study period in Lecce.

The University Language Centre (CLA) offers free intensive Italian language courses at the beginning of each semester.

The courses are at three levels: elementary, intermediate, advanced.

Students who would like to attend the course must undergo a placement test to assess the level of their language. Tests usually take place during the first week of October (first semester) and the second week of February (second semester).

HOW TO GET TO LECCE

BY AIR

The nearest airport to Lecce is Brindisi (approx. 40 km to the north-west). From here there are regular domestic flights to Rome Fiumicino (approx. 70 min.) and Milan Malpensa (approx. 95 min) from where international connections can be made. In the summer months (circa June to September) direct international charter flights are usually available. There is a direct coach link to Lecce. Bari Airport (about 150 km to the north-west of Lecce) besides offering the same kind of domestic services as Brindisi, also offers year-round direct international flights.

BY RAIL

This is the cheapest, but not necessarily the most comfortable way to travel in Italy (especially in Summer). There is a main line railway station just outside the historic centre of Lecce. Regular direct, "Intercity", "Eurostar" train services (which are faster and for which a supplement is necessary) run daily between Lecce and Roma (approx. 5/7 hrs). Milan (approx. 9/12 hrs.), and Bologna (approx. 8/10 hrs.) from where many further connections can be made. Furthermore there are weekly through-train services right up to Switzerland and Germany.

For further information:

Web site: www.trenitalia.it

Telephone: 848. 888088.

BY COACH

Some daily coach services are run by private companies from Lecce to Rome - (approx. 6/8 hrs.); Milan and Turin - (approx. 14 & 16 hrs.). These cost on average a little more than the train. Coach service also from and to Germany, France, Luxembourg, Poland.

BY CAR

The Italian "autostrada" (motorway) network - which consists mainly of toll roads - extends as far Bari and Taranto (approx. 90 km to the west of Lecce). To get to Lecce you should take the motorway to Bari (either the A14 from Bologna or the A2/A16 from Rome) and then travel south-east on the SS 16 from Bari to Lecce via Monopoli and Brindisi. All the way is a dual carriageway and, depending on the traffic and road works, should take an hour and a half.

BY SEA

There are daily ferries and, in the summer months, high-speed catamaran services from Brindisi to Greece, Corfu, and Albania. Similar, but less regular services are also available from Bari, Taranto and Otranto (about 40 km south-east of Lecce). Average crossing time is 8 to 10 hours, 3 to 4 hours by high-speed catamaran.

ON ARRIVAL

31

Go to the INTERNATIONAL MOBILITY OFFICE

Viale Gallipoli, 49 (telephone: +39 0832 29 35 66); between 10.00 and 13.00 a.m.

It is not advisable to arrive during the week-ends as in this case no one will be able to take care of you till Monday morning.

You will receive a SOCRATES/ERASMUS certificate which gives you access to every service at Lecce University and it is necessary to obtain the Residence Permit

TUTORS

Tutors will be allocated to incoming students on European exchange programmes.

They are ex – ERASMUS students who will be glad to pick you up on your arrival and help you in settling in Lecce. The International Mobility Office will put you in touch with the tutor.

Please feel free to contact them for any question or problem.

RESIDENCE PERMIT

Once arrived in Lecce EU and not-EU incoming ERASMUS or exchange students should report to the Central Police Station (Questura) to request a "Residence permit".

There is a special Office for this procedure called "Ufficio Esteri". It is near the railway station, Viale Oronzo Quarta.

HEALTH ASSISTANCE

EU incoming students with EU HEALTH card or Health Certificate can go directly to the general doctors they have chosen.

The list of the available doctors can be consulted at the ASL Office (Health National Unit)-Viale Don Minzoni, 8 – Foreigner Office.

Medical examinations are free and are carried out at the doctor's studio (only for severe health conditions visits are at the patient's home). Specialistic examinations must be requested by your general doctor and booked through the CUP service (the Unified Booking Centre), or at the major city chemist's shops/pharmacies. All examinations require the payment of "ticket", equivalent to a part of the total cost.

Emergency situations

To call for an ambulance, dial the number 118 in your telephone. In case of emergency you can turn to the Hospital first aid station, available 24 hours a day. The service is generally free and open to everybody. The night doctor service (tel. 0832 343460) is active during the night hours and on bank holidays and on Sundays (when the general doctor is not available).

Drugs

On main newspapers, you will find the complete list of the daily chemist's shops or pharmacies on duty.

REGISTERING AT STUDENTS' WELFARE OFFICE (EDISU)

You are advised to register with the Students' Welfare Office (E.DLSU.) – the body that manages various services for students such as: student cafeterias, photocopying services, entertainment and sporting activities. This is housed in Via Adriatica opposite the University Sports Centre (CUS) near the entrance to the "Superstrada" – dual carriageway – to Brindisi.

To register you should have:

- ☑ 4 passport-sized photos
- ☑ a national identity card
- ☑ your Socrates/Erasmus Certificate
- ☑ a certificate of good health

THE LOCATION OF THE VARIOUS PARTS OF THE UNIVERSITY

Mathematical Sciences, Physical and Natural Sciences, Economics, Engineering, Law are sited in a complex 3 km east of Lecce. The courses of the degree in Musical Heritage and Performing Arts are located in Arnesano, 7 km from Lecce (there are regular bus services to both Ecotekne and Arnesano from the railway station and the students' welfare office – EDISU. – in Via Adriatica).

The faculties of Arts and Humanities, Cultural Heritage, Education Science and Foreign Languages and Literature are split into various departments which are spread about the city itself. The main University Library (Biblioteca Interfacoltà) is found next to the Porta Napoli, and the University's main administration building and Rector's office (Rettorato) are situated not far from the railway station. Starting from the Academic year 2006-2007 the University of Lecce has a new branch in Brindisi, around 40 km from Lecce.

ACCOMMODATION

In Lecce there are three halls of residence catering for students. They are located in via Adriatica, via Lombardia and via Salesiani. You can apply for a double room with WC/Bathroom, but without cooking facilities. Rent is about 93 Euro per month. A refundable deposit of 104 Euro is required on arrival.

They close during Christmas and Easter holidays.

However, given the high demand for these places, most students have to find a private accommodation. At their arrival in Lecce, students who have not been assured a room at one of the halls of residence, have the opportunity to be accommodated in comfortable and central hotels (for maximum 5 days) at the special price of 12 Euro per night, breakfast included, as the University of Lecce is paying for extra costs.

During your staying there, ESN Association (especially appointed by our Institution to assist you) will help you to find the accommodation which mostly meets your needs (single or double rooms in private flats shared with other students).

You can contact Vinicio & Co. even before your departure by e-mail at:

studentierasmuslecce@yahoo.it and ima@ateneo.unile.it

So you can stay at the Hotel just for the number of days you need to find your final accommodation. The average monthly rent for a single room is 160/250 Euro, for a double room is 120/160 Euro.

MEALS

At present there are three student canteens. Two are found in town: in the Students' Hall of Residence in via Adriatica and in via Lombardia, here two meals a day are served including Sundays. Another one is situated at Ecotekne where only lunch is served from Monday to Saturday.

They close during Christmas and Easter holidays.

Meals cost from 2.50 until 4 . Students can buy luncheon vouchers at EDISU.

PUBLIC TRANSPORT

Bus service covers the centre of the city and the suburbs (Autolinee Urbane). STP buses connect extra urban zones (where the faculties of Mathematical Sciences, Physical and Natural Sciences, Economics, Engineering, Law are sited) with the centre.

University students are entitled to reduced tickets.

SHOPPING

Cost of living is lower in a small southern town as Lecce than in big cities in the central of northern part of Italy. Anyway it is advisable to buy basic necessities ( food, toilet articles, clothes) in large stores or supermarkets than in small shops.

Opening hours:

Tues – Sat 9.00-13.00
16.30-20.00

Monday -----
